- Vivek forgets the year, then birthdays and anniversaries. He forgets to lock doors, and loses keys and his watch. He doesn’t remember where he put them, he says; maybe someone stole them
- He forgets the name of his son, misidentifies him as his brother - Struggles to find his way in his own house - slow physically, in thought, and in speech
- Population of those aged 60 and above in India has risen from 5.6% in 1961 to 8.6% in 2011, according to the 2011 Census
- September 21 was World Alzheimer’s day.
- Specialist psychiatrist could diagnose the condition early and educate the family on what to expect
- Caregivers and support groups need to empowered, educated, and supported
- Alzheimer’s may not have a cure yet, but plenty can be done to help the patient lead a dignified life.
In 1976, Muhammad Yunus—>Grameen Bank in Bangladesh—> Which made capital available to the poor, especially women.

New book, A World of Three Zeros:
1) The New Economics of Zero Poverty,
2) Zero Unemployment, and
3) Zero Net Carbon Emissions

Yunus found that low-income people in the world's richest nations were suffering from the same problems the poor faced in poorer nations:
1) Lack of institutional services,
2) Health care,
3) Inadequate education,
4) Substandard housing etc

Yunus, who won the Nobel Peace Prize in 2006, argues that problems of poverty are failures of our economic system.

> I am very keen that we should electrify the entire railway network. My mission is 100% electrification. Electricity is a domestic and self-sufficient resource whereas we have to import diesel.

> The Railways are investing ₹16,000 crore every year in diesel consumption. So, I will save ₹8,000-₹10,000 crore (via complete electrification).

PIYUSH GOYAL, Union Minister for Railways
All-rounder Hardik Pandya rose to the occasion again with a 78-run knock as India registered a comfortable five-wicket win over Australia in the third ODI in Indore on Sunday. With this, India took an unassailable 3-0 lead in the five-match series. PTI REPORT ON PAGE 15

ISRO working on substitute spacecraft
Work has begun in Bengaluru to assemble the alternative substitute navigation spacecraft, which became essential after the main back-up was lost in a failed launch on August 31.
IRNSS-1I was earlier approved as a ground spare, to be sent to space in an emergency.
Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) has been training a team from an industry consortium to assemble this spacecraft and its lost fellow satellite, 1H.
